SUBSCRIPTION ACCOUNT IN ARREARS IS COLLECTABLE

A canvasser in The Times subscription campaign reports that a subscriber who is in arrears for several years, informed her he did not consider himself legally liable for more than one year's subscription to The Times, and that any arrears prior to twelve months ago could not be collected from him.

If there are any other subscribers in arrears who are of the same opinion, we desire to point out that they are mistaken in their contention, as the account can be easily collected if the account was placed in the hands of a solicitor and taken to court.

A publisher in a town not far from Wetaskiwin placed a subscription account with a lawyer for collection a short time ago, and his honor, in giving judgment, stated that it was evident that the subscriber had been receiving the paper for the time ended for and had received statements of account several times each year up to the time his name was struck off the list and had neglected to make sure that the plaintiff had been notified of his desire to have his name struck off the list; that he was liable for payment; that it cost money to produce newspapers and mail them, and that no one was relieved from their obligation to pay under such circumstances, and that the defendant would have saved himself coming into court and extra cost had he exercised better judgment in paying the amount for which he was liable. Judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff for $24.43 and costs.

During the period of the campaign now being conducted by The Times, we desire to have all arrears paid up and we would therefore urge that all those who have not paid for their paper for several years, do so during the next three weeks, thereby settling their account amicably, as we cannot continue to send The Times indefinitely without pay—and we do not intend to do so.

VOTE FOR THE HOSPITAL
AGREEMENT ON SATURDAY

The hospital agreement will be submitted to the burgesses of the Municipal District of Montgomery on Saturday next, September 26th, and it is urged that there be a large vote on this important question. When it is considered that the present hospital building has been condemned by the government officials as a fire hazard and will be closed if the ratepayers are not favorable to the proposed new agreement, it remains for the people of this community to say whether they wish to have hospital accommodation in Wetaskiwin or not. Considering the present low cost of materials, and the likelihood of the labor on the building being paid under the unemployment relief plan, it appears to The Times that this community cannot afford to let this opportunity pass to get a modern hospital building at the lowest possible cost.

Let there be a large vote on Saturday. The opponents are sure to register their objection, therefore it behooves every burgess to vote on this very important question.

FARMERS OF PRAIRIE
PROVINCES FAR FROM RUIN

There has been a great deal of loose talk about the hopeless position of the western farmers. That it is true of many of them is only too apparent. But generalizations on the strength of their cases are quite misleading and need to be corrected. A man who is in a peculiarly favorable position to do so replied in the last issue of Toronto Saturday night to a Jeremiah to which it had given space. This is Oliver W. MacDonald, an inspector of the farm loan board at Regina who has been for thirty years in close touch with credit conditions in Saskatchewan. He protested against gross misrepresentations that had been made of the agricultural situation in that province, where it is admittedly much worse than in the rest of the prairie west.

To Mr. MacDonald's opening observation special heed deserves to be paid. This is that the picture of western farmers as "a regiment of soldiers all keeping in line" is altogether false. There are some that are well-to-do, some poor and all sorts in between. That this is so we are all aware but we are too often led to think that what applies to one of them applies to all. They are divided into five classes by Mr. MacDonald and it is presumed that his figures are based on conditions as he has found them in Saskatchewan.

Twenty-five per cent have their lands and chattels clear of debt and money in the bank or have made general investments. Thirty-five per cent have no debt except their mortgages, have kept up their interest and tax payments and reduced the principal amounts. Those in arrears of interest but who would be put in the second class by a good crop at fair prices are estimated at twenty per cent. The number requiring valid this season but who have a chance to recoup with the return of normal times are put at fifteen and those who will need to make some arrangements for writing off indebtedness at ten.

Mr. MacDonald has no patience with those who criticize farmers because they have automobiles and radio. With rare exceptions, he says

never feels tired

The reason is—WIGLEY'S. Jones has found out that if you keep your mouth fresh, you feel these have been paid for and there is no reason why they should deny themselves such comforts. The future can be faced with confidence when "we have an energetic, hard-working, experienced people devoting their abilities to make the soil more productive and the livestock more marketable." The prairie soil is sound security for the payment of the debts that have been incurred. But it too, the article stresses, is of all varieties, "some rich and fat, some hungry and unproductive, mixed all through like stripes on a tiger or spots on a leopard."

More regard must be paid to this diversity in planning for the future. The soil surveys that have been instituted will help greatly in avoiding mistakes that have involved both the individual farmers and the public at large in heavy losses. Experience has been a hard but far from ineffective teacher in the west and the new era of agricultural development that cannot be long delayed can hardly fail to see much sounder methods followed, the need of which has been driven home in recent months as never before. In the meanwhile there is no reason for assuming that our principal industry is bankrupt and in showing how little warrant there is for that belief, men like Mr. MacDonald are able to do a very real service and from them we should hear much more frequently.

HELP WANTED SATURDAY

Candidates in The Times circulation campaign report that they will not be able to call all the people personally who have promised them a subscription during the "First Period" which ends Saturday night. In case they do not see YOU, they would appreciate it very much if you would bring or send it here to the office and it will be turned over to them when they make their report. As the big credits and Saturday night, you will be helping your favorite in the biggest way possible if you will have it here by ten o'clock. How about it Mr. Subscriber? Are you going to turn your back on a friend?

NEW YORK'S GREAT

SILVER VAULT

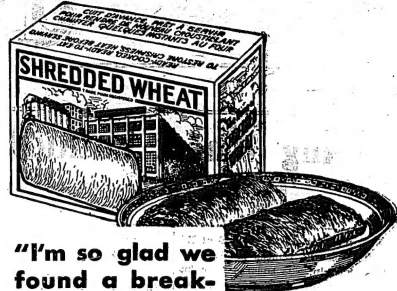

One of the greatest treasures of silver in the world lies directly beneath a crowded sidewalk just off lower Broadway. Since the war New York has ranked with London as a clearing house for silver bullion, and an enormous treasure of the precious metal is constantly flowing in and out of this treasure house in lower Manhattan. Just below the thousands of hurrying feet there lies a treasure of millions of ounces of the coveted metal.

Two great streams of silver constantly flow from New York eastward and westward, one via the Suez Canal to India, the other by way of Panama to China, the two great silver consuming countries. All the world draws upon this rich supply. The enormous demand for silver throughout the United States for use in the arts is also largely satisfied here. No other country can afford such a wealth of silverware as the United States.

Despite the wealth of silver handled in these New York sidewalks vaults and the hazard of transporting it back and forth across lower Manhattan, hold-ups are unknown, and the loss is negligible. The work is very carefully organized. The silver in large glistening bars and ingots of various forms is, of course, protected by stout steel walls. When it is to be shipped, the silver is loaded on electric elevators which carry it to the level of the narrow pavement. It is transported by means of armored cars or caged wagons carefully guarded by armed attendants. When these cars are backed up to the narrow sidewalks, the silver can be lifted from the elevators and transferred with minimum exposure.

On reaching the docks the silver is transferred under guard to the strong room or specie rooms of liners for direct transportation to other ports. So safe is the transportation that the insurance rates from New York to India is but fifteen cents per $100.00. In twenty-five years there has not been a loss of a single ounce. The ingots incidentally weigh some eighty pounds each, which would prove a serious handicap to any thief who tries to get away with them.

The silver is handled "naked," that is, without being boxed or enclosed in any container. Although the silver is pure and comparatively soft, the loss from rubbing or scratching is very trifling. It has been found that the loss from scratching in shipments averages but five ounces per 100,000 ounces. The treasure of silver is so valuable that it is never allowed to remain idle for more than a few hours at a time, since the interest on such an investment is naturally great. As the enormous fortune in silver is transferred at the opening to the vaults a few curious people may stop for a moment to watch the operation, but the spectacle has become commonplace.

NEWSPAPER COSTS

Printers and publishers are sometimes placed in an embarrassing position these days, when prices in many lines of business have come down. They are asked why advertising and printing prices should not come down, too. The answer is that they have not, and are not likely to, because they cannot. They are "pegged" prices, pegged by circumstances so firmly that market fluctuations cannot have any effect on them. We are not speaking of the price for which the paper is sold. That is merely a sum fixed to give the paper market value and has no relation to its cost. If it were higher, according to publishing costs, then advertising could come down. The three cents or five cents paid for the paper does not meet the cost of the white paper and ink in most cases, much less the cost of gathering the news and setting it up in type, paying for the paper, ink, plant maintenance, distribution costs of the printed paper, wages and other incidents. None of this has come down in price with the exception of paper, and that only slightly. The investment in a newspaper plant is heavy, especially when compared with the volume of business and skilled workmen are required to do the work. High standards of service are established and the public expects

DOZEN EGGS IN YEAR 1930

Last year 70,000 Alberta farms with an average flock of 30 hens produced $1,000,000 dozen eggs, making possible the export of 122 carloads. H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, told a meeting of the Edmonton Poultry and Poultry Stock, Wednesday night. The gathering was the first of the season for the organization. Eggs were responsible for revenue of $81,000,000 in Canada in 1930, stated Mr. Craig. He informed the meeting that in the same year 15,000 birds had been tested for disease, and that this figure in 1931 would probably be increased to 25,000.

Was Troubled With Indigestion
After Every Meal

Dyspepsia, or indigestion, is the greatest plague of modern civilization, and there is not one in ten that is not troubled with it at some time or other.

The quickest way to get rid of this stomach trouble is to take Burdock Blood Bitters which will promote perfect digestion and keep up the stomach.

Mrs. Fred Woodcock, Kilmory, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with indigestion after every meal, and could hardly stand the pain in my stomach. A friend advised me to take Burdock Blood Bitters, and after the first bottle I was greatly relieved. I have now finished the second and can eat anything I like without that terrible distress after each meal."

NO, my dear reader, you're all wrong. This is not a reproduced photograph of any living thing found in the heavens above nor in the earth beneath, not of a plasticine model made by a primary pupil of a public school, neither is it of anything found in Tutank-a-man's tomb. No, indeed, it is, according to reliable newspaper reports, something extremely ultra-modern. It's a "modern work of art," not by Jacob Epstein but chiseled out of a piece of rock by Henry Moore and exhibited at London—recently. "Clasped Hands" is the title. Mr. Moore's exhibit contained other samples of the same hideous monstrosities. Epstein saw them and exclaimed, "Before these works I ponder in silence. The imagination stretches itself in vast proportions and by space new shapes, growths of our subconsciousness, fill the atmosphere."

Tastes differ, I suppose. One scarcely expects a Hotentot of the African wilds to be profoundly moved at the sight of a piece of statuary by Chappi, or Rauch, or Donatello, or Canova, or an exquisitely beautiful Venus by Jerome, or a thousand and one other masterpieces of sculptured art, but I wager a nickel that he would turn from this "girl with clasped hands" muttering that a dozen five-year-olds of his native village with their hands and a pot of jungle mud could beat it forty ways. I wonder if O. Turocotte would recommend such samples of modern art, even at a penny a-piece, for decorating the beautiful and majestic new building now all but completed for the World's Grain Exhibitions and Conference at Regina in 1932. He could put one of 'em on top of the big fountain in the sunken garden at Well, if he did, even the Western Indian would say, "The only thing the matter with it is that the water around the fountain isn't deep enough."

GROWING, SELECTION AND PREPARATION OF GRAIN AND SEED FOR EXHIBITION

(Copyright, 1931)
By HERMAN TRELLE

Article No. 5
THRESHING A WORLD'S GRAIN SHOW SAMPLE

The World's Grain Exhibition and Conference of 1932 is a specialized exhibition with rules wisely demanding a large enough volume for each exhibit to make it fairly representative of the country in which it was produced as well as the particular farm upon which it was grown. At the same time the volume is not so large that the keenest technical skill and individual artistry cannot be timely applied in a practical and economical way.

It is assumed that the interested reader is familiar with the previous three articles, which, in natural order, pass through the first stage during which nature is pretty well in absolute control and during which man is but a secondary factor; then comes the second stage, when man cuts the crop and divides the control between Mother Nature and himself—the curing, unthreshed condition; and now, in this article, we enter the third and crop. He then has the seed under last stage—when man threshes the cover and under his absolute control. Mother Nature assumes more and more, the role of second place.

When the unthreshed seed has passed through the cure (as outlined in last article) and test samples can be threshed, the prospective exhibitor can finally decide which one of the different selections is the best upon which to stake his best chances for success, and it is hoped that the sample selected is a pleasing product of a kind of seed which is a commercial success in the district in which it was grown. Too many aspiring exhibitors fail because of failure to choose the kinds and varieties of seed which are a natural success in their own particular localities.

Some threshing methods may give good results some of the time under various particular conditions; but, here is the simple arrangement recommended by the writer which never fails to give 100% satisfaction when used for the threshing and separation of wheat, rye, oats, barley, etc. Secure several common, clean, jute, two bushel wheat sacks, two round, wooden clubs (not necessarily smooth) made out of any kind of wood no more than three inches in diameter and eighteen inches long, each whittled down at one end to a handle and weighing two to three and a half pounds, one sharp hand axe and one or two common wash-tubs and dishpans. Manipulate the above articles with a little common sense in the following manner on a dry, breezy day, and one can be assured of a separated product which has not been abused in any avoidable way.

Providing the quality, purity and cured condition of your bundles are satisfactory, and that they require no further roguing, chop the heads off one at a time just above the band line. Use a wooden plank upon which to rest the bundle over a clean canvas or floor, etc., or if further roguing is required, clip the heads off along with a few inches of straw into a container. Stuff the heads from two or three sheaves into a sack in the most irregular manner and tie with a good cord. If one wishes, the whole sample may be put into sacks in like manner before selecting a good day, time and place to pound them out. Place one sack at a time on a firm, smooth floor or platform. A sack may be used for a floor covering. With a club in each hand pound away to your heart's content, regularly turning the sack and shifting the contents. A little experience by feeling and opening the sack will soon tell when enough work has been done. In a couple of minutes one can lay the sack aside and repeat the same process on another, and so on, through to the last. By using fair judgment, especially on light hulls, oats, and tender barley, one need have absolutely no fear of damaging the kernels in any way because there is enough straw mixed with the seed to absorb the force of the round (not square) clubs. With a little practice and some dexterity by this method one can usually knock out from five to ten bushels in a day.

There is no damage in leaving the grain mixed with the straw in the sacks for a few days, so long as the sacks are safely piled in a dry, cool place. See Article No. 4. When the day is dry, warm to cool, and breezy select a clean, open spot, and it is best to put a covering down for safety, bring out the wastubs and dish pans, put not too many sacks at one time, because at this time of the year the weather may change at a moment's notice. Open a sack and fill a tub about half full of the mixture. Stir it up with your hands and shake the tub in a whirling, jerky, rotating motion. The kernels will soon gravitate to the bottom and the lighter straw and threshed heads will come to the top. Skim this off with your hands. Repeat this motion a couple of times. Do not be afraid of losing a few kernels or perhaps some of the partially threshed heads which contain usually small or undesirable grain. Lastly while passing the reduced mixture from one tub to another in the brewer one can soon adjust himself so as to save the kernels and let the chaff and lighter straw pass by until only the odd knot and piece of straw and chaff remain. This separating operation takes about the same time as the threshing process.

By experience the writer has found that the greatest care and expert precision with any power thresher or separator will not prevent cracking, or splitting, or marking, or even mixing a good wheat sample. So it will be wise for the prospective exhibitor, in the World's Grain Show to bushel wheat class, to think twice before he turns away from a good and safe hand method. It may take a little longer but the compensation comes in after preparation.

Pears, beans and flax are very much easier separated in bulk by spreading on a clean dry surface and pounding out with a fork or flail. The seeds soon separate, and gravitate toward the bottom where they may be easily gathered and wind separated.

Exactness, care, however, must be exercised in separating timothy so that the delicate hulls are not loosened from the fine seeds. This is best performed by gently rubbing the heads of a bundle between the hands or knocking the heads of the bundles on a block, or over a grating where the seeds will fall and be safely collected for wind separation.

And, by the way, all fine seeds separate and clean beautifully when a little judgment is mixed with the open wind on any dry day.

By judiciously choosing the above sample methods one can safely and economically take care of any seeds named in the World's Show prize list. It is advisable to get the threshing and first wind separation of the complete bulk sample over with in as close to one time as possible, so the sample may be systematically processed as one unit, through the steps which are followed and brought to a climax in the finished show sample.

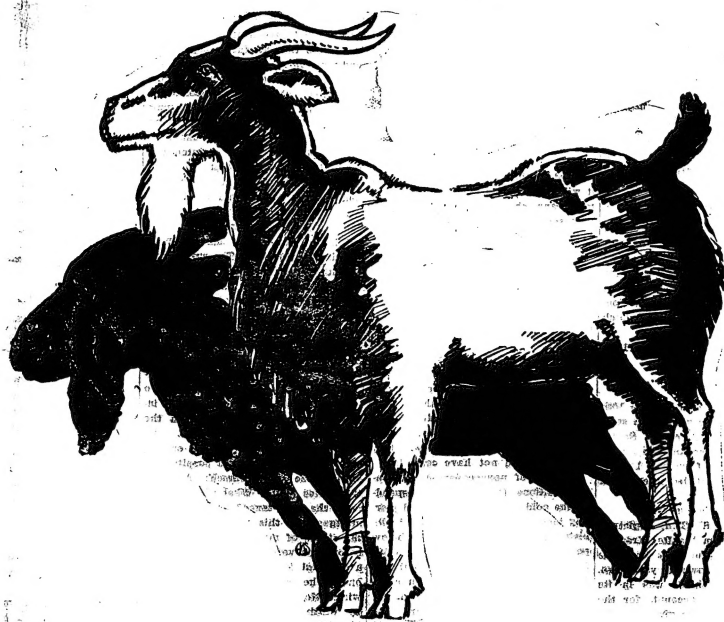

Reducing, shrinkage, and uniform conditioning of the prize seed sample will be dealt with in the next article.

THE LIBERAL EXECUTIVE MEETING

Mr. J. W. Macdonald, K.C., of Macleod, Liberal leader for Alberta; Mr. Geo. Webster, M.P.P., Calgary, Liberal House leader; Mr. W. R. Howson, M.P.P., Edmonton; Mr. H. J. Montgomery, M.P.P., Wetaskiwin; Mr. Mitchell, M.P.P., Leduc; Mr. L. A. Giroux, M.P.P., Grouard, met informally, with the Red Deer Liberals to discuss the situation in the riding, to have a talk over the political situation in this riding. No resolutions were passed, but it was left to the local executive to call a meeting of delegates from the Red Deer riding to consider the political situation in the riding, and determine what action, if any, should be taken. The Liberal members criticized the government on several lines in connection with finances and unemployment. As matters stand now, action by the U.P.A., the Conservatives and the Liberals has been left to the local executives at Red Deer, who are to call conventions to determine action.—Red Deer Advocate.

MUSIC CERTIFICATES AS CREDITS IN HIGH SCHOOL

A week ago an Edmonton paper published an article pointing to the advantage of music certificates held by high school students, such certificates adding units to their credit, increasing their final marking.

The name of the London College of Music was inadvertently omitted therein. In order to reassure holders of certificates and those aspiring for same (London College), the following letter from the Dept. of Education, Edmonton, is hereby published, which speaks for itself:

July 17th, 1931.

Mrs. Margaret Scott, Wetaskiwin, Alta.

Madam: Replying to your letter of the 10th inst., I beg to advise you that a student submitting the Advanced Senior Examination in Piano and the Senior Section in Theory from the London College would be entitled to credit in Music 3.

Your obedient servant,
H. J. SPOER, Registrar.

In a conversation the Registrar explained that the regulations for music credits were laid down 10 years ago, when music in schools was in its infancy. This also accounts for the fact that no credits are given to holders of violin certificates, which is also an omission.

The name of the London College of Music will appear on the list at a next reprint of school regulations. This music institution was founded about 1865, is incorporated; its address is Great Marlborough Street, London, W. It is under the distinguished patronage of The Right Hon. the Earl of Howe, The Right Hon. The Earl of Haddo, O.B.E., The Countess Howe, The Countess of Haddo. Its examiners are some of the greatest Doctors of Music in England.

THE HOSPITAL AGREEMENT

The following is a copy of a letter in reply to a question asked by a Councillor of Montgomery Mtn. Dist. respecting the Hospital Agreement: Dear Sir: Re Hospital Agreement City of Wetaskiwin and Mtn. Districts of Montgomery and Bigstone. We understand, from conversation with you, that the question is being asked by some of the Ratepayers why provision was not made in the above Agreement, for the donation of a free site for the new Hospital, by the City of Wetaskiwin. The City of Wetaskiwin stands ready and willing to donate a suitable site, provided the new Hospital Board, or representatives of the three Municipalities concerned, are satisfied to build a Hospital on land owned by the city. As you probably know, the City owns considerable property within the City limits. We believe that more than one of these properties is suitable for Hospital purposes. It was announced, more than a year ago, that the City was willing to provide a free site for a new Hospital, and the only reason this was not included in the above Agreement, is that the selection of the site is not a matter for the City Council, alone, but for a Board representing all three Municipalities. Under the City Charter, a building used for Hospital purposes, and an area not exceeding five (5) acres, is exempt from taxation.

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless, alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 25c and 50c in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

During the negotiations leading up to the above Agreement, it was understood among all parties that the Public Ward rate for Hospital services in the new Institution, for patients from the three contracting Municipalities, shall be $2.00 per day. It was also understood that there was to be no operating room charges for patients from the three Municipalities. Patients from outside the jurisdiction of the three contracting parties would pay the usual Hospital rates. These matters were not included in the Agreement because we cannot bind posterity indefinitely in such an Agreement. All we can agree to is that the new Hospital will be commenced on the basis agreed upon, but it will be for the Boards in future to make any changes which, to them, may seem advisable.

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) BRUCE D. HOWATT,
Mayor.

Mr. Editor:

Before your next issue the first vote on proposed hospital will have been cast. The attitude of the Councillors in fixing a date when farmers would be severely needed in harvesting and threshing, while delaying the city vote until Oct. 14th, has no excuse. It looks like a studied effort to deprive rural voters of their franchise, as there is no reason why this election should not have come last.

In view of unprecedented economic conditions (England has suspended the gold standard; the pound sterling touched $3.75, lowest point in its history; the Canadian dollar is below par; the C.P.R. has dismissed 6,000 men, which means 24,000 mouths to feed, and will be reflected in a reduced demand for meat; England's very large wheat reserves and the low price of all cereals, together with the fact that taxes, store bills and wages have not shrunk accordingly in value) it seems incredible that any rural taxpayer would consider adding to his obligations the burden of a debt that would be imposed by adopting By-Law No. 712 providing for the new hospital.

There is no halo surrounding the head of any elected or appointed official in a representative government. The order of Ralph B. Moore, fire inspector, was very weak. The hazard of rapid spread of fire to other buildings is small and if by reason of age and disrepair its present occupancy makes it a serious hazard to life and property, why was the building not condemned? The most valuable papers in Wetaskiwin District are probably in the City offices. Most of them come in Class A risk, they are subject to this terrible fire hazard. People can be moved out now, at once, but this valuable property is left exposed in an uncondemned building. Why?

In your last issue, the ratepayers public are given a little more information about hazards. This building is of very hazardous nature, because it is entirely of mill construction and because of its age. Is there a brick building anywhere that is not entirely finished with millwork, stairs, bull-nose casings, doors, etc. Will these burn more readily or burn with a fiercer flame than others constructed by hand? As to the hotel I am told, 25 years ago. That is not old for a brick building. It should be good at 100 years. Steam pipes pass through partitions unprotected and in some instances appear to be resting on wood. Did you ever hear of anything being set on fire by touching a steam pipe? The wiring does not conform with the requirements of the code. I understand that this wiring was attended to immediately. Inadequate means of egress, boiler room and fuel supplies in the basement are other hazards, all of which could have been remedied at small expense. Instead you are urged into building another hospital, for which there is no legal warrant, on the statement that legislation will be introduced to validate your known illegal action. No one can promise that it will be legalized. This method of conducting public business establishes a vicious precedent as many projects which ratepayers felt unable to afford might seem quite laudable to Councillors and be hustled to completion in advance of legislation on the theory that it would have to be sanctioned. The thing was built. What could they do about it?

In this case the ratepayers are asked to assume a debt of $30,000 due in 15 years, the aggregate annual sum of principle and interest for each instalment being $3088.88 or a total of $46,332.80, to which will be added by the City of Wetaskiwin $10,000 cash and $20,000 outstanding hospital accounts making an investment of $76,332.80 to begin with. But you have no assurance that the debt as stated will be all that you will be called upon to pay. On the contrary Sec. 6 states specifically: "It is understood and agreed among the parties hereto that all future capital expenditures in respect to the said Hospital and all unforeseen losses or expenditures shall be apportioned among the three contracting parties according to the population of the three contracting municipalities." It has been pointed out at public meetings that the blue sky is the limit to debt this law would permit the hospital board to incur.

For this heavy expenditure you will have a one story building, with capacity for 20 beds. The rural municipalities will have no proprietary interest in this building until the end of the 15 years when their debts are fully paid. The rural district of Montgomery will then have paid in loan and interest the sum of $18,533.28 and M. D. Bigstone $18,899.56. In the meantime natural increase of population should necessitate annexes to original building with increased indebtedness. Your own taxes in the meantime become delinquent and your property sold for taxes or you may be able to donate a hospital. In either case ask yourself: Are the 1930 taxes paid? What will I sell to meet the 1931 taxes? Are there any mortgages on this property? What is the status of my credit at the bank? before you vote. Everyone who wants a hospital is justified in voting for one if he can afford it. Not otherwise. No one is going to be injured by waiting until a hospital combination is legal. In the meantime guard the present hospital against incendiary fires.

G. F. ROOT.

Millet, September 21, 1931.

Editor, The Times.

Dear Sir:

As a regular reader of your valuable paper, I have been following with interest the various letters which have appeared in your columns on the hospital question.

It appears to me, however, that a great deal of space has been used in arguing the non-essentials of the case: such as whether Mayor Howatt was responsible for the visit of the inspector which resulted in the condemnation of the present hospital building or whether he arrived in the ordinary course of his duties. Nor are we much concerned in the question of whether, if a fire occurred, it would spread readily to other buildings, etc., as the important point is what chance the patients would have to escape in the event of such a disaster. From a personal examination of the building I am convinced that the decision to close it as a hospital was the only possible one. Being entirely of wooden construction inside, it is obviously impossible to make it fireproof by any other method than the complete removal of the wood and replacement with fireproof material, which of course, would cost more than a new building. Let every taxpayer go and examine the building for himself, and he will realize the absurdity of the argument that it could be made fireproof by any reasonable expenditure.

But the point with which we ratepayers are most concerned, is that the building has been condemned, and we have to decide whether we will assist in the building of a new modern hospital to which we could send members of our families with confidence and at reasonable cost, or whether Wetaskiwin shall have no hospital. This, in my judgment, would be a calamity to the whole district. It would mean that all our sick and injured would have to be sent to Edmonton hospitals. It would mean that urgent cases, particularly from the country, might terminate fatally before a hospital could be reached. It would mean, besides the high rates, extra expense for trips to Edmonton on the part of those who had relatives in hospital, and, while this might not mean anything to the wealthy, it certainly means a lot to the average ratepayer.

The scheme which has been proposed, of getting a modern and well equipped hospital (properly located, which the present could never be) at a reasonable cost to the districts concerned. It should not be forgotten that we are at present paying heavily for the care of our sick and will have to continue doing so in either hospital even if this scheme were rejected.

Once the building is paid for, hospitalization will cost less than at present as a proper building can be operated far more efficiently and economically. Taking everything into consideration, it will be a step to build our own hospital than to send our patients to Edmonton, and it will be far more satisfactory to all of us.

Now, turning for a moment to the other side; what do the opponents of the scheme propose to do to meet the situation caused by the well-deserved condemnation of the present hospital. Judging by Mr. Root's letters, no alternative has been advanced. Argument that the present building could be made satisfactory (which is absurd) and the imputation of bad faith and foul motives to everyone connected with the hospital scheme, seems to be his only stock-in-trade. It appears therefore, that the opponents of progress either have no real arguments to advance or they do not care to place them before the public. And yet when a man of Mr. Root's standing takes such a strong stand on a public question, it seems to me that he should be ready to give reasons for the faith (or lack of it) which is his. Unkind people might think that his reasoning is governed by the fact that he owns five or six sections of land on which he would have to pay hospital tax.

In conclusion, let me say that in my opinion there are some things which are more valuable than the dollars which Mr. Root appears to prize so highly. One of these is proper hospitalization for our sick and injured. We never know when these men and dear to us will need it. The present scheme will provide proper care at a moderate rate of $2.00 per day, and the balance required will be collected from the ratepayers as a whole. This is probably the feature to which our large landlord is opposed, though he is too shy to tell the public about it.

Let us, however, pay no attention to those who are "land poor," but let us do what is best for the great majority, and in the near future we will have in Wetaskiwin a hospital which will be worthy of one of the best districts in Alberta.

Before anyone votes against the scheme, let him ask himself "What is the alternative?" and as is evident

Restless CHILDREN

CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper, mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than a more powerful medicine.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is need. In cases of colic, diarrhea or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. A coated tummy calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation and does away with bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.

(Sgd.) J. E. FRASER, City Clerk and Treasurer, and Returning Officer.

SCHEDULE "A"
Agreement made this day of A.D. 1931.

Between: The Corporation of the City of Wetaskiwin of the First Part, and The Municipal District of Bigstone No. 459, of the Second Part, and The Municipal District of Montgomery No. 458, of the Third Part.

Whereas the City of Wetaskiwin has owned and operated a Hospital situated in the said City and known as "The Wetaskiwin Hospital", for many years, and the said Hospital serves the Territory included in the above-named Municipal Districts of Bigstone and Montgomery, and which Hospital has received substantial Grants from the Parties of the Second Part and the Third Part respectively.

And whereas Officials of the Government of the Province of Alberta, have recently made an inspection of the said Hospital and have reported that the said Wetaskiwin Hospital building is deficient so far as safety from fire is concerned, and have recommended its use for Hospital purposes.

And whereas the Parties hereto deem it expedient that steps should be taken to provide for Hospital accommodation for the large area served by the present Hospital, being the areas under the jurisdiction of the three contracting parties.

And whereas the Council of the City of Wetaskiwin, and the Councils of the Municipal Districts of Bigstone and Montgomery, (hereinafter referred to as the Parties) have entered into an Agreement on terms hereinafter set forth with the object of erecting a new twenty-bed Hospital to be situated in the said City of Wetaskiwin.

And whereas it is doubtful that the Parties of the Second Part and of the Third Part have full power under the Municipal District Act, being Chapter 41, of the Statutes of Alberta, 1926, to enter into a contract containing all the terms and conditions herein set forth, and that the Council of the Province of Alberta, has given assurance that at the next Session of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Alberta, all necessary legislation to validate and make effective this Agreement, will be introduced and every endeavor made to have such legislation passed.

And whereas from information furnished by the Department of Health of the Province of Alberta, it appears that about the year 1926, the twenty-bed Hospital at least the sum of Forty Thousand ($40,000.00) Dollars.

And whereas the present Wetaskiwin Hospital, in the course of its operation, has accumulated a surplus of approximately Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, which sum it has been agreed shall be contributed to the cost of erecting and equipping the proposed new Hospital, leaving the sum of Twenty Thousand ($20,000.00) Dollars, to be provided for.

And whereas at conferences of representatives of the Parties hereto it has been agreed that a fair apportionment of the sum of Twenty Thousand ($20,000.00) Dollars among the said contracting Parties, would be as follows:

Municipal District of Montgomery, $12,000.00; Municipal District of Bigstone, $8,000.00; City of Wetaskiwin, $9,000.00.

On the basis of population the apportionment should approximately have been as follows:

Municipal District of Montgomery, $12,375.00; Municipal District of Bigstone, $8,250.00; City of Wetaskiwin, $8,375.00.

It was felt, however, by the representatives of the three contracting Parties that, owing to the peculiar circumstances existing in the Municipal District of Bigstone, where there are large sparsely settled and unoccupied areas, in which areas the land is not very productive and the assessments are low, an unfair burden would be placed on the more highly assessable lands out of proportion to the burden carried by similar lands in the other Municipalities, if a strict basis of population was adhered to. It was agreed that the above-mentioned proportion would be fair, under the circumstances.

Now therefore the Parties hereto mutually agree as follows:

(1). The Parties of the First Part, subject to ratification by the burgesses of the City of Wetaskiwin, as provided for in its Charter, hereby undertake and agree, as soon as conveniently may be, to use its best endeavors to borrow the sum of Thirty Thousand ($30,000.00) Dollars on the credit of the said City, and to proceed with the erection and equipment of the proposed new Hospital:

In consideration whereof the Parties of the Second Part covenant and agree to and with the Parties of the First Part to make a Grant of the sum of Nine Thousand ($9,000.00) Dollars to aid in the construction and equipment of the said Hospital, the said sum of Nine Thousand Dollars to be paid to the Parties of the First Part in fifteen (15) equal annual payments and to bear interest at the rate of Six (6) per cent per annum, the first of such annual payments to be made on the 1st day of November, 1932.

And it is further agreed that all supplies, equipment, outstanding accounts, and all other assets of the said existing Hospital shall be contributed to and used for the benefit of the proposed new Hospital.

(2). It is further understood and agreed among the Parties hereto that when the Parties of the Second Part and Third Part have completed the payments of the said sum of Nine Thousand ($9,000.00) Dollars and Twelve Thousand ($12,000.00) Dollars respectively to the Parties of the First Part, the said Parties shall be entitled to a proprietary interest in the said new Hospital as follows:

The Municipal District of Bigstone No. 459 a 3-10 interest.

The Municipal District of Montgomery No. 458 a 4-10 interest.

This provision being conditional upon this Agreement being validated at the next Session of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Alberta, as aforesaid.

(4). Each of the contracting Parties hereto hereby agrees to become responsible for the Hospital Bills incurred from the time the said new Hospital commences operation, by residents from the area over which it has jurisdiction.

And it is further understood and agreed that the deficit or loss, if any, occasioned from hospital services furnished patients from any of the said Municipalities shall be borne by that Municipality.

(5). It is further understood and agreed among the Parties hereto that any deficit or loss occasioned from hospital services furnished to transients or persons not residing within the areas over which the contracting Parties have jurisdiction, shall be borne by the three contracting Parties hereto.

(6). It is further understood and agreed among the Parties hereto that the said new Hospital shall be managed by a Board consisting of Nine (9) Members, three (3) from each contracting Party, and one (1) from the Province of Alberta (as the case may be), one to be a Member of the Council, and a third to be chosen from the proprietary class, and the said Board shall not be a Member of the Council, the appointments to be made in each case by the Councils of the respective Parties.

(7). The Parties hereto agree to join in a Petition to the Minister of Health and to the Government of the Province of Alberta, for such necessary legislation as will validate this Agreement, as aforesaid.

(8). The name of the new Hospital will be the "Wetaskiwin Hospital".

(9). This Agreement and everything herein contained shall respectively ensure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties hereto and their respective Successors and authorized Assigns.

Witness the Corporate Seals of the parties hereto, and the signatures of their proper Officers in that behalf, the day and year first above written.

SUDDEN DEATH OF REV. ENOCH LEONARD HINDORFF

It is with deepest regret, and sincere sympathy to the bereaved, that we chronicle the passing of a dear friend in the person of the late Rev. Enoch Leonard Hindorff.

While he had been in somewhat different health for some time, it was not thought that he was in any immediate danger. But on Thursday evening, September 17th, after having returned from a ride in the country with Rev. P. M. Meyer, he took violently ill. All possible medical aid was rushed to him, and after two short hours, he passed to the Great Beyond to meet his Saviour, whose gospel he has preached for the past forty years.

Deceased was a man whose very presence was an inspiration to do good, and as a minister of the gospel proved very popular, having been called to serve Hill Top Swedish Baptist Church three different times—first three years, then after three or four years of service, the Swedish Baptist Church in Hennings, Minnesota, U.S.A., was recalled to Hill Top to serve another four years. After which he served Water Glen congregation for a period of four years. He then took a holiday of one year accompanied by his wife, the late Mrs. Hindorff, and spent their vacation in Sweden. He was then again recalled by the congregation at Hill Top, where he had charge in 1925, '26 and '27. After this he retired.

The late Rev. Hindorff was held in high esteem by all who knew him, and much beloved by his friends, who mourn his death; but who will carry a memory of his kind and thoughtful words and deeds throughout their lives.

Deceased was born in Sweden on February 22, 1869—was united in marriage to Miss Alma C. Hindorff, June 26, 1888. There were born to the union four children—two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Erickson of Asker, the other daughter died in infancy; two sons, Emil, of Yorkton, Saskatchewan, and Hjalmer of Norquay, Saskatchewan. The family came to Canada in 1906, and have spent most of their time here since. The late Rev. E. L. Hindorff was predeceased some three years by his wife.

Besides his children, deceased leaves to mourn his death, three brothers, two in U.S.A. and one in Sweden, also a host of friends whose sympathy goes out to the sorrowing family.

PASSING OF AN OLD CREE INDIAN CHIEF

There passed away on Friday night, September 17th, an old-timer, a good warrior, a wise chief and a Christian friend, Chief Lewis Bull of the Bull Reserve, has folded his earthly tent and has crossed the Jordan of this life to the joys of the promised land. The departed chief was one in a long line of noted chiefs, his father, Muddy Bull, and his grandfather having been prominent leaders of the Cree Indians. Lewis Bull was born at Saddle Lake. When he was about 31 years old he came with his parents and relatives to Wetaskiwin and settled on what is now called the Bull Reserve. His father was an earnest Christian and taught his children the Christian religion. Quite early in life Lewis Bull accepted Jesus Christ as his Saviour and friend, and with great devotion he has lived the Christ life to the best of his ability. He took a great interest in the welfare of his people both in material as well as in spiritual things. He was loved by his people and it was his great wisdom to choose one worthy to be his successor. He had been ailing for some time but during the last weeks his illness became more serious. His wife, sons and daughters were with him constantly, taking turns "in" watching and caring for him by day and night. Several times it was thought he was passing away but he revived again. He was deprived of hearing and speech during the last few days, but his eyes were keen. He spent much time in prayer. When the end was near he raised himself up to a sitting position and tenderly casting a last look on all his loved ones gathered in and in front of the room. Then lying back on his matted bed he folded his hands in prayer and quietly and peacefully passed away. Gone but not forgotten. He attained the age of 79 years, and leaves to mourn his loss, his aged widow, five sons, Francis, Tom, Lazarus, Simon and George, two daughters, Mrs. George Baptiste and Mrs. Joe White, forty grandchildren and nineteen great-grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Francis Threngfingers, four cousins and many relatives, besides a number of friends.

The funeral service was held on Friday morning, September 18th, at 10 o'clock, from the Bull Reserve, following a short service at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Erickson—Rev. Alfred Larsen, leading, and was assisted by Rev. P. M. Meyer, of Wetaskiwin and Rev. J. A. Wingfield of the Nashville church.

both among Indians and white people who have known and loved him, and now miss him, but comfort themselves with the hope in Christ of the happy reunion in the Great Beyond. Internment took place on the Bull Reserve cemetery Saturday afternoon, Sept. 12th. Many Indians from the different reserves and also white people gathered for this solemn occasion to pay their last respects to a friend and Christian worker. Rev. F. W. Benke of Wetaskiwin, and Rev. W. R. Canton officiated at the funeral. Mr. Benke was a personal friend of the chief, having known him for a number of years. Both ministers imparted words of exhortation and comfort. Mr. Drury Miller and Mr. Walter Krause brought uplifting messages in song. Chief Joe Samson of the Samson reserve, and brother-in-law of the deceased, delivered an impressive address, telling how he and the late chief had dedicated themselves to Christian service about the same time and have worked together for the good of God and their people. Mr. George Baptiste, oldest son-in-law, also spoke of the good work of the late chief. Mr. Fred Little, Poplar, councillor and interpreter, ably interpreted the messages of the missionaries.

THE EXPECTANT MOTHER

The health and well-being of the expectant mother are of great importance. Obviously, they mean a great deal to the woman herself. Her condition during pregnancy has a direct effect upon the expected baby. The far-reaching benefits of a proper start in life are generally recognized, and so it is that the health of the expectant mother has a great deal to do with the present and future health of her child.

While pregnancy is a normal physiological function, it nevertheless places an unusual strain upon the body. This strain, the normal woman is quite capable of meeting. She can do so with greater ease and comfort if she has pre-natal care, and, at the same time, she can through such care avoid the dangerous abnormal conditions which sometimes develop during pregnancy.

Pre-natal care simply means that the expectant mother places herself under the supervision of her doctor and follows in instructions. This is not a difficult thing to do, but because it is not done, we find arising out of pregnancy, a considerable amount of suffering and not a few deaths which could be prevented. The expectant mother requires pre-natal supervision. This supervision should begin early in pregnancy and continue throughout the entire period. The need for it is disregarded by most women because they know of so many others who have had their babies without mishap notwithstanding the fact that they did not call their doctor until the time of the confinement.

It is quite true that such is the case sometimes. Unfortunately, however, it is not always so, and the expectant mother should be told that occasionally pregnancy does not go smoothly and that if accidents are to be avoided, she should take the necessary precautions, which, in this matter, imply regular pre-natal supervision.

The abnormal conditions which occur do not, as a rule, develop suddenly, although to the woman and her family it may appear as if they did. If, however, she had been under supervision, her doctor would have detected the abnormal condition long before she had any idea that anything was wrong, and by proper treatment would have corrected it before harm had resulted.

Maternity should be made as comfortable as possible. A great deal can be done, through pre-natal care, to overcome, or minimize the conditions which are annoying and distressing to the expectant mother. Maternity should be rendered safe, and this can be done if it is supervised and kept in the normal safe channel by means of the direction of someone who is trained to give such supervision. Carelessness may lead to drifting into dangerous currents which do greater or less damage to those who pass into them, and which can be avoided by pre-natal supervision.

Aspirin is harmless—cannot depress the heart. So there's no use waiting for a headache to "wear off." It is useless to endure pain of any kind when you can get Aspirin. It is a blessing to women who suffer regular systemic pain; to men who must work on, in spite of eye-strain, fatigue or neuralgia.

Learn its quick relief for colds; for neuritis, rheumatism, lumbago. Be sure to get Genuine Aspirin. All druggists keep Aspirin tablets.

ELEVENTH FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

(Issued by the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Alberta, Sept. 19th, 1931.)

Cutting of all grains is completed in this part of the Province lying south and south-east of Calgary. 75% of the threshing has been done in this area, but progress has been delayed during the past ten days by rain which at some points amounts to two inches of precipitation. All cutting is done in the Peace River district, but threshing has been delayed by showery weather. In the central and northern area about 75% of the crop is cut, but very little threshing done. Harvesting and threshing operations are seriously delayed by continued rains and a period of dry weather is needed to complete the handling of all crops.

A large part of the wheat in the south grades No. 1 Northern. In the Peace River district shrunken kernels tend to lower the grade of wheat, which in other respects is of excellent quality. In central and north-central Alberta excessive moisture is causing a considerable part of the wheat to grade tough. Yields may be said to be quite satisfactory in all parts of the province with the exception of the south-eastern area.

Pastures, fodder and root crops outside of the drought area are in excellent condition. Recent rains in the south have been particularly beneficial. Alfalfa has made unusually heavy growth and in some instances a third crop has been cut on irrigated lands. Sugar beets give indications of an average yield. The first severe frost occurred in central and northern Alberta on the night of September 16. Some damage was done to standing crops and vegetables but owing to the late date this will not be serious.

WATER AND WINE HAVE A CHAT

(Contributed—Author Unknown)

"There sat two glasses, filled to the brim,
On a rich man's table, rim to rim;
One was ruddy, and red as blood,
And one was clear as the crystal flood.

"Said the glass of wine to his paler brother,
Let us tell tales of the past to each other.
I can tell of banquet and revel, and mirth,
Where I was king, for I ruled in mirth.

And the proudest and grandest souls on earth
Fell under my touch as though struck with blight.
From the head of king I have torn the crown;
From the height of fame I have torn men down;

I have blighted many an honored name,
I have taken virtue and given shame;
I have tempted youth with a sip, a taste,
Which has made his future a barren waste.

Far greater than any king am I,
Or then any army beneath the sky;
I have made the arm of the driver fall,
And sent the train from the iron rail;

I have made good ships go down at sea,
And the shrieks of the lost were sweet to me;
For they said, 'Behold, how great you be,
Fame, strength, wealth, genius, before you fall.

And your might and power are over all.'
Ho! Ho! pale brother, laughed the wine,
Can you boast of deeds as great as mine?"

"Said the water glass: 'I cannot boast
Of a king dethroned, or a murdered host;
But I can tell of hearts that were sad.'"

By my crystal drops made light and glad;
Of thirst that I've quenched, and of brows I have cooled,
And of hands I have cooled, and of souls I have saved.

I have leaped through the valley, dashed down the mountain,
Slept in the sunshine, and dripped from the fountain;
I have burst from my cloud fetters and dropped from the sky,
And everywhere gladdened the landscape and eye.

I have eased the hot forehead of fever and pain,
I have made the parched meadows grow fertile with grain;
I can tell of the powerful wheel of the mill
That ground out the flour and turned at my will;

I can tell of manhood, debased by you,
That I have uplifted and crowned anew."

Mrs. P. Marechal shipped a pure-bred Tamworth boar and a Tamworth gilt to Andrew.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cohen and children spent Sunday and Monday in Edmonton. While there they attended the Jewish New Year services.

Little Howard Furlong received a nasty cut on his forehead while playing at his grandmother's, Mrs. Doane's. Dr. Simpson was called and it was found necessary to have it stitched up.

Dr. and Mrs. Simpson left on Saturday for Barrymore, where they spent Sunday at the home of their son. They report that the late hail storm has completely destroyed all 1931 vegetation in the hilled districts of the west. We understand from others, that the farmers throughout the devastated area carried practically no insurance.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. P. McDougal. A large attendance answered the roll call. After the usual business of the meeting was finished, the subject of the Thanksgiving supper was discussed and it was resolved by all present that the supper should be held on the evening of October 10th. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. McDougal, assisted by Mrs. Higgins. The ladies accepted the invitation to hold their October meeting at the home of Mr. H. P. Phillips.

PLUM TREES AT CAMROSE

... To come nearer home, Mr. J. P. Slattery is one of the deservedly fortunate fruit growers who has achieved success in a distant direction, and two heavily laden branches brought into town by him this week gave ample evidence of the fruitfulness of his young orchard. Mr. Slattery's farm is two miles west of Camrose, bordering on the gravelled highway on the south side, and here for many years he has experimented with various types of hedges and groves, as well as perennial and annual flowers. Many disappointments were experienced, of course, but today Mr. Slattery has the advantage of having learned many valuable lessons. He advocates the planting of dense wind-breaks of trees and hardy shrubs before attempting to grow fruit trees or plants which dust and wind will surely destroy unless amply protected.

A small orchard which he started some four years ago has been a source of much interest and pleasure and may eventually prove to be profitable as well. Here may be found the blue variety Opata plum trees from which were taken the branches to display in town. The fruit, by the way, is partially ripened and given a few days' more of sunshine and no frost, will be fully matured. There are also some cherry plums of the Tom Thumb variety, now in bloom, and hardy kinds of apple trees, ideally suited to western climatic conditions, including Columbia, Hibernia, Dolgo and Olga, as well as several species of red and yellow crabs, the Siberian, Garnet and Prince, secured from the Valley River experimental farms of Northern Manitoba.

Mr. Slattery sees no reason why the harder types of trees should not be cultivated to produce fruit in season, but as he emphatically points out, the grower must first of all provide adequate protection in order to obtain satisfactory results.—Camrose Canadian, Sept. 3.

A man is never an old codger until he begins to think of himself as one. This is the one fact that Fifi Dorsey drives home to Will Rogers in the famous comedian's latest attraction. When Will finally gets the drift of Fifi's logic he goes modern in a big way which results in more laughs per minute than any two of his previous screen triumphs.

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

The following is a weekly report from the Edmonton Stock Yards as supplied to The Times for the week ending September 22nd:

Receipts: Cattle, 1034; calves, 237;

hogs, 3042; sheep, 354.

Trading is fairly brisk on good quality cattle. This kind are moving quite readily at about steady values. Medium and inbetween kinds of cattle, however, are hard to move, are selling at lower prices, and showing a weaker tendency, especially on plain steers.

Choice lightweight cattle on the fed calf order are quoted at $5.00 to $5.25, bulk of the good to choice butcher steers $4.00 to $4.50, medium $3.25 to $3.75, and common to fair $2.50 to $3.00. Good to choice handyweight, butcher heifers $4.00 to $4.50, medium $3.25 to $3.75. Good heavy heifers $3.00 to $3.25, common to medium kinds $2.50 to $3.00. The general run of good butcher cows $2.50 to $2.75, mediums $2.00 to $2.25, and common to fair $1.50 to $2.00. Canners and cutters 75c to $1.25. Bulls $1.25 to $1.50.

Stockers of all kinds are clearing quite readily under a good demand, especially cows and heifers. Prices remain steady, with steers and heifers at $3.00 to $3.75 and cows $1.75 to $2.50.

The calf market is quite active and values are steady to firm. The general run of good veal calves going at $5.50 to $6.00, odd choice ones up to $6.50 and common to medium kinds $3.50 to $4.50.

Hog market unsettled. Tending lower. Peace Rivers sold at $4.40 for the bacon's fed and watered, with trucked-in hogs selling at $4.15 to $4.25 for the bacon's. Selects bringing a premium of 50c per 100 and butchers discounted 50c per 100. Cuts on the off-grade hogs are as follows: Heavies discounted $1.00 per 100, lights discounted $1.00 per 100, extra heavies $3.00 flat, No. 1 sows $3.00 flat, all other sows and roughs $2.50 flat.

There is no material change noticeable on the sheep and lamb market. Prices remain fairly steady, with lambs quoted at $4.75 to $5.50, yearlings $2.00 to $4.00 and ewes $2.00 to $2.50.

CHALMERS HARDWARE

INSTALS AN ACREMETER

H. E. Chalmers took an important and advanced step a few days ago, when he had installed an acremeter in his office. The object of this instrument is to take any guess work out of tube testing, as it measures the capacity of each leg automatically. Radio experts found that 99% of the radio trouble could be rectified and with this object in view, the experts constructed the acremeter, which has proven to overcome difficulties in setting up radios and subsequent troubles. It is claimed that this new machine will detect and definitely indicate all possible defects in radio tubes. As the acremeter is quite expensive, and seldom found outside the large cities, Mr. Chalmers is to be complimented on his enterprise in having one of these machines established in his store. See his advertisement elsewhere.
